The old log house about one mile from the New California Hotel built in the 1670's on a William Penn land grant is said to be one of the oldest houses in Richland Township, formerly known as Rockland Township. This has been in the Weaver name from the 1770's to 1945. The original and a stone addition are still in use, now occupied by John T. and Sadie E. Barbour.

Dedicated to the memory of my father
Elias H. Weaver, Jr.
whose life ambition to write this family History was always defeated.

I wish to express my appreciation to all who have so patiently given of their time and knowledge to make this History possible.

Special assistance was cordially and patiently contributed by Mrs. Lovinia Neamand, nee Weaver and her daughter, Anna; and Mrs. Carrie Cressman, nee Weaver and her daughter, Helen. For John Weaver descendants, Mrs. Mary C. Weaver, nee Bright.

Weaver Family History

A branch of the Weavers originating by Settlement at New California, near Richlandtown, Bucks Co., Pa. in the 1700's.

A great deal of difficulty encountered in looking up the records was due to a gross error made with the first name. He is naturalized as Manus Weber. It so happens that his name was Hermanus which is Herman in English. Undoubtedly the clerk thought he said Herr which is Mister Manus Weber. Everybody knows Johannus is John and not just Annus. Therefore all this time this error defied attempts on family research there being no record of any Emigrant by the name of Manus. The Emigrant records give Herman (X.) his mark Weber as one of 119 Palatines imported and given the Oath of Allegiance at the Court House at Philadelphia, Tuesday, August 17, 1749. The Foreigners whose names are underwritten imported on the Ship Fane, Capt. William Hydeman from Rotterdam but last from Cowes in England, did this day take the usual oath to the Government. Palatines from Wirtemberg and Rothenstein. Rothenstein is in Central Franconia, now Bavaria. With him on the same ship was his son Jost (X.X.) his mark Weber.

As a small boy I dimly recall the old Weavers say they came from Wisseberg. The French maps have it as Wissembourg and the German maps as Wissemberg, located in South West Germany in the Province Wirtemberg. Another possible location is in South Germany, Swaben, midway between Ansbach and Ingolstadt, near Ellingen, called Weissenburg. When I visited Germany the people were astonished that I came from America because they said I spoke the Swabian dialect.

In analyzing the name there came into use a lot of variations in spelling. Weber in German means Weaver in English. The various spellings being Weber, Webber, Wevver, Wewwer, Wehver, Weaber, Wever and Weaver.

These Weber, Weavers with very few exceptions all belonged to the Reformed Faith, and politically Republican.

To whom he was married is not recorded. He is buried in the Richlandtown Church Yard in the first row facing sidewalk on Main Street.

Explanatory

Encircled numbers denote Generation, assuming JOST WEBER to be the first generation, although also a listed immigrant.

Children are numbered in their order of birth.

When there are no descendants known or unknown, they are completed. Where the family line continues, the oldest is followed, generation by generation until completed. Then the next oldest is taken in similar manner.

It will be seen that there are only two main lines of continuation under (1) JOST WEBER.

(2) 1. Samuel Weaver

(2) 2. John Weaver

Again under SAMUEL WEAVER, please note that there are two main continuation lines, viz.:

(3) 1. Elias H. Weaver, Sr.

(3) 2. Lewis H. Weaver

Again under ELIAS WEAVER'S only continuing line is

(4) 1. Lewis M. Weaver

And under (3) LEWIS H. WEAVER, the only continuing line is

(4) Samuel L. Weaver

Great obstacles were met in unraveling the John Weaver's descendants. These are located in the Bingen-Spring Valley region in Lehigh County.

There are many so-called Saucon Valley Weavers in this area who are descendants of Friederich Weber.

The others are known as New California Weavers.

About ten years ago I was called to attend a Harvey F. Weaver at Sigmund, Lehigh County. He stated he was from Spring Valley and of the California Weavers, evidently a descendant of John. The mortgagee of his home was Elizabeth Weaver, undoubtedly his aunt.

Joseph M. Weaver, M. D., Allentown, Pa., with whom I was well acquainted, at one time inquired from what Weavers I was descended. He stated his branch came from the Bingen Weavers. Evidently in some manner he also must be a descendant from John Weaver, whose origin was California, Bucks County. Germany

The John Weaver family therefore is not completely unraveled in this family record.

Manus Weber had one son Jost Weber. There is no record of any brothers and sisters. However, judging from old tombstone inscriptions and the noticeable family custom of repeating given names, it is not altogether unlikely he had brothers and sisters. He is buried in Richlandtown Church Yard, second row, about midway; three tombstones with inscription barely legible in German viz.:

The stone cutter evidently modified Jost Weber's inscription lettering. In old records in Northampton County some Weber Weavers used two v v's or two w w's or occasionally two b b's.

An old quit rent notice to Joseph Weber and wife Catherine, nee Steiger, Jan. 28, 1879, from his son, Samuel Weber, gives the following: Samuel Weber, Nov. 1, 1800, who was married Oct. 28, 1828 to Sarah Horn, daughter of Stephen Horn and wife, Catherine. The minister performing the ceremony was Rev. Samuel Staehr. Witness Jonathan Struse.

Stephen Horn's wife, Catherine, nee Harter, was born April 25, 1803, and was baptized July 24, 1803 by Rev. George Roller. His father was also named Stephen Horn, whose wife was Maria.

First Generation

JOST WEBER, New California, born 1754, and wife, Catherine, nee Steiger, born March 4, 1758, entered into some land transaction in 1800, which begins with the name Jost Weber, but is signed Joseph Weaver. Weber in German is an occupational name i.e. Weaver in English.

Jost Weber and Catherine, nee Steiger, had eleven children.

Second Generation

1. SAMUEL WEAVER, New California—Farmer and wife, Sarah, nee Horn—Had 6 children—Born November 2, 1800—Died March 3, 1873—Aged 72 years, 3 months, 12 days—Buried at Richlandtown, Pa.
